

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am currently pursuing an MSc in Software Engineering at the University of West London and am writing to apply for the Train Software Engineer Intern position at Siemens Mobility. I learned about this opportunity through Student Circus and was immediately interested due to its strong focus on system-level software, networking, and Android application development.

During my internship at LIS Nepal, I supported ETL workflows using Python and Apache Airflow, automated data validation processes, and worked with modern data platforms such as Snowflake. This experience strengthened my problem-solving skills and ability to work with complex, production environments.

I am highly motivated to learn, enjoy working on real-world engineering challenges, and would welcome the opportunity to contribute while learning from experienced engineers at Siemens.

Kind regards,

Bipul Tamang
